ROBERT CHARLES NORDAHL

4130 Willhi
Eugene, Oregon 97402

I spent my last senior year at this school. I was known primarily for my authoring a column in The Bulletin and organizing meetings dealing with environment and nature study. After graduating I grew increasingly aware of the vanities of mankind and of nature worship . . . both of which let me down. As a sophomore at U of O in searching for answers to life, I tried various religious experiences and came to commit my life to the Lord Jesus Christ. It is with Him that I've found my real fulfillment and with Him I have stayed. He is for real and He brings truth. Now I am a graduate of the U of O and am established for now in a household sales business. I believe the Lord is calling me ultimately to the ministry. I recently took the position of director for the local (Eugene) counseling center for the 700 Club T.V. Show.

Directly out of high school I attended college, then worked for a few years as a medical secretary and transcriptionist. In 1971 I married Jim Miller, planning on waiting at least two years before starting a family. Ten months to the day after our wedding our first child, Kristi June, 6 years old, arrived. Seven months after her birth I found out another child was on the way. Taking it in stride we named her Jolie Elizabeth and she is 5 now. Praying that our birth control methods would work we faltered and I again conceived on New Year's Eve 1976 and our beloved son, J. Scott Matthew, age 3, was born nine months later. I aborted over-the-counter birth control methods deciding they weren't reliable and took permanent measures. Our children are the most wonderful things that could have happened to us and we love our family dearly. Now I have my own medical and legal typing service. My husband is vice-president for Bend Millwork, Pozzi Window Company and Pozzi Company in Portland.
